

Saturday February 8, 2025

This week we will be keeping our eye on the weather. Looks like snow on Tuesday and Thursday. This upcoming week is also going to be our Valentines Day party. We are aiming for Thursday. We are planning fun Valentines craft as well as an ice cream treat. If you would like your child to send in Valentine's Day cards to their friends - that is fine, but please don't feel like you have to. If you would like to just write on the card to a friend and write your child's name in the from spot.

We have almost finished up our Art Fair projects. Looking forward to seeing all of you at the Art Fair. The Art fair takes place on Friday the 21st. The Art fair is 6:00 to 7:30pm in the big room. There will be a bake sale as well.

There is no school for the 2's on the 18th.

Stay warm today! Looks like some more ice is on the way. Ugh!!
